Consent to the transfer of Personal Data to countries outside the EU and EEA

Context

As Nomadic Insurance Benefits Limited (a member of World Nomads Group) is a member of a large international group operating across a wide range of jurisdictions within the EU and outside it, we may, for operating efficiencies and certain decision-making purposes, need to transfer personal data of potential candidates for roles within the company (or group as appropriate) to countries outside the EU/EEA.

Under the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) we are obliged to obtain your consent for such transfers and to provide information to you in order for you to decide on whether you wish to provide consent.

Personal Data covered

The personal data involved is typically that which is contained within a Curriculum Vitae (CV), Resume, reference, cover letter etc., circulated via email to HR functions in group entities in Australia and/or the United States of America (US).

Data Protection risk

Please note that Australia and the US are not included on the list of countries considered by the European Commission to provide an adequate level of data protection. While there are established data protection legislation and regimes in place in those countries, there is a risk that the protections applicable to your personal data and to the rights you may exercise over it are not the same as in the EU. By way of example, the right to erasure and to restrict automatic processing of personal data under the GDPR are not replicated in Australia. Please see here for the link to the our Company Privacy Policy.

By applying for this vacancy, you acknowledge our Company Privacy Policy and hereby consent to the transfer of your personal data as described above to the countries identified outside the EU and EEA.
