
Hugo MacNeill
Investment Banking
Dublin

Hugo is the Investment Banking Services representative for Ireland. He joined Goldman Sachs in 1988 as an associate in Investment Banking. Hugo became an executive director in Fixed Income and Equities before assuming his current role in 2001. He was named managing director in 2004.

Prior to joining the firm, Hugo worked at the Boston Consulting Group in London.

Hugo is involved in several charitable and public service bodies. He is chairman of GOAL UK and the Ireland Funds, a council member of the British Irish Association and is a member of the European Alumni Advisory Board for the Boston Consulting Group. He is also a director of various GSAM funds, which are listed in Ireland.

Hugo earned a degree in economics and a diploma in Anglo Irish Literature from Trinity College, Dublin. He also studied economics at Oxford University.