PRESS RELEASE

INSURANCE INSTITUTE CONFERENCE OPENS IN GALWAY

Top executives of the country's major insurance groups were present in Galway today at the opening of the Annual Conference and Seminar of The Insurance Institute of Ireland.

The two-day conference opened with the election of Dermot Ryan of Royal Insurance as president for 1987 - 88 and a major address on EEC insurance law by John D. Cooke, S. C., president of the Consultative Commission of the Bars of the European Community.

Seamus Brennan, T. D., Minister of State for Trade and Marketing, will speak to the group on Friday morning and subsequent sessions that day will deal with Stock Market Protection for Investors, The EEC and Insurance Broking and the Development potential of Insurance.

The final major address of the Conference will be delivered on Friday night by Peter D. Sutherland, S. C., Member of the Commission of the European Communities with responsibility for competition. Dr. Colm O'hEocha, president of University College, Galway, is guest of honour.
